LABOR BOARD HANDS DOWN WAGE DECISION

RULING WILL REDUCE RAILWAY WAGES FOUR HUNDRED MILLIONS

Thirty One Unions are Affected Immediately by Decision--Average Cut of 12 Per Cent.--Board Expects to Take Up Wages of Skilled Labor In Near Future.

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 31.—Four hundred million dollars a year will be slashed from the nation's railway wage bill when an order to be handed down tomorrow by the United States labor board takes full effect. The decrease is effective July 1 on 104 lines. Granting the petition of the companies the board will direct an average cut of 12 per cent which, eventually, will apply to all railroad employes of the country.

Members of 31 unions are affected immediately.

The cuts range from five to thirteen cents an hour, or from $10.20 a month for apprentice boys to $26.52 for the better paid skilled labor figuring on an eight hour day basis. The decision granted reductions varying from 5 to 18 per cent and in the case of section laborers, completely wiped out the increase granted that class of employes by the $600,000,000 wage award of July 20, 1920. Section men who have been receiving $3.70 for an eight hour day were cut to $3.02, the same figure in effect under federal control.

The reduction was approximately 18 per cent. Switchmen and shop crafts were given a 9 per cent reduction while the train service men were cut approximately seven per cent. Carpenters were cut about 10 per cent.

While the decrease is specially aplied for the present only to the 104 roads whose cases have been heard by the board the decision says it may later be applied to any other road asking a hearing in accordance with the provisions of the Esch-Cummins transportation act.

Some of the Cuts Made.

The decision on the present rates of pay as established by the $600,000,000 wage award of July 20, 1920. Common labor pay over which the railroads made their hardest fight is to be reduced six to 8½ cents an hour, cutting freight truckers average monthly wages to $97.10 and track laborers to $77.11. This new schedule still gives section men an average daily wage of $3.02 for an eight hour day altho considerable testimony offered by the roads, particularly in the south showed common labor wages as low as $1.50 for a ten hour day.

Shop crafts employes and train engine service men except those in passenger service are reduced 8c an hour. Construction and section foremen are reduced ten cents an hour cutting their average monthly pay to $146.

Passenger and freight engineers who were given increases of 10c and 13c an hour by the 1920 award are to be cut six cents and 8c an hour respectively. Passenger and freight conductors, who received increases of 12½c and 13c in 1920 are cut 7½c and 8c respectively by the new schedule.

Train despatchers and yardmasters whose monthly earnings at present average $260 to $270 are cut 8c an hour.

The smallest reduction will apply to office boys and other employes under 18 years of age, who will receive five cents an hour less after July 1.

One of the significant readjustments in the decision is the reclasification of clerks whereby entering clerks, usually young men and women of 18 to 20 years old will receive a monthly salary of $67.50 for the first six months and $77.50 for the second six months of service. Clerks with less than one year's experience now receive $120.

The attitude of the railroad unions towards the decreases ordered remains to be determined. It has been generally understood that the union men would accept of from 10 to 12½ per cent. The big brotherhoods are expected to meet here July 1 to consider the board's decision which is effective on that date.

Claiming they were hit hard by the winter slump in business railroad managements have been clamoring for several months for lower wages and the decision tomorrow will mark the first relief granted by the board since it set the high wage scale in its $600,000,000 award more than 10 months ago.

SENATORS OFFER MORE PROPOSALS FOR REDUCTIONS

Would Slice More Millions From $495,000,000 Measure

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 31.—The third week of senate debate on the $495,000,000 naval appropriation bill opened today with the group of senators who have been prominent in the disarmament and economy controversies offering new proposals for naval reductions. A final vote, however, is expected by leaders tomorrow or Thursday.

When the senate after its holiday recess, resumed consideration of the bill, Senator Lenroot, Republican, Wisconsin offered an amendment to cut $15,000,000 from the total of $90,000,000 voted by the house and supported by the senate naval committee for continuing work on the 1916 naval building program. The amendment was rejected by a vote of 35 to 20.

Would Suspend Work.

Senator King, Democrat, Utah then offered an amendment proposing temporary suspension of work on five of the six new battle cruisers and also on six superdreanaughts of the South Dakota class. This went over until tomorrow.

Disarmament questions the place the United States should occupy among the naval powers, comparisons of the naval programs of the United States, Great Britain, Japan and numerous other subjects were threshed out anew in today's discussion.

The Lenroot amendment was supported by the Republicans and ten Democrats. Among the former was:

Kenyon, Iowa.

The mystery surrounding the finding of the body has completely baffled police who are working on a tangled skein of evidence revealed by a day of investigating.

When quesioned today, Rossi said Sorongeli had frequently disappeared for many days and litlte was thought of his absence until his body was found. Rossi was unable to explain why Sorongeli was in the building on the night of the fire but said no ill feeling had existed between him and his brother-in-law.

FEVERISH EFFORTS AT SETTLEMENT ON THE PART OF BEARS

Arrivals During Day Not Large But Values Fail to Break

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 31.—Feverish efforts at belated settlement on the part of bear speculators in the May delivery of wheat forced an advance of 17½¢ a bushel today for that delivery, whereas the net gain for the July delivery was merely a fraction of a cent. It was the final day to fulfill contracts in the current month and a few oversharp dealers appeared to have trapped themselves thru acting on a false assumption that the market would be swamped by big receipts. The arrivals today did not prove large, 590 carloads before the day was over, but values failed to break.

Furious bidding by the scattered shorts carried the price of May finally to $1.87. This was just 67½¢ a bushel higher than ownership could have been acquired at six weeks ago. Most of the holdings in the May delivery were said to be in the hands of exporters and destined to be soon on the way to Europe. Otherwise the miscalculation of the holdout bears might possibly have turned out to be less of a blunder.

Tonight it was estimated that 800,000 bushels of wheat had been delivered here today on May contracts and that 195,000 bushels had been defaulted on. The default price will be settled by a committee of arbitration.

BISHOP MANNING REITERATES RIGHT TO CARRY FLAGS

Delivers Stirring Address to Rotarians Who go to England

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, May 31.—Bishop William T. Manning of the Episcopal church today reiterated his belief that it is right for Americans to carry and display on all suitable occasions "the flags of those nations that fought with us in the war."

Bishop Manning was the principal speaker at luncheon given by the New York Rotary club in the honor of the Rotarian who will sail tomorrow on the Steamers Caronia and Cameronia for Great Britain. The delegates will represent the Associated Rotary clubs of America at the twelfth annual convention of International Rotarians to be held at Edinburgh, Scotland, June 13-16.

Bishop Manning praised the overseas mission of the Rotarians and said it undoubtedly would have a great infuence in cementing the friendship of the nations.

"Tell my British friends," he said, "that you go to them as thorogoing, undiluted Americans. Tell them that because you are true Americans you do not forget the duty we owe all our English-speaking allies who stood between us and the enemy in the perilous times of war.

"We may be carefree, heedless people but tell them we do not intend to permit any individual or group to tell others that we shall not carry or display on all suiable occasions the flags of those nations that fought with us in the war."

Letter From President.

A letter from President Harding expressed his regret at his inability to attend the luncheon. said in part:

"tI seems to me that there is opportunity for very great service in the cause of good international relations in your visit to Europe at this time. It cannot be alogether desirable that the peoples of the great English-speaking countries shall establish more and more intimate social relations and constantly improve their understanding of each other.

"As your splendid delegation of representative Americans goes away on this mission of amity and international good will I want every one of you to know how earnstly hop for good and helpful results from your visit to the United Kingdom.

"I know the mission will do credit to our country and am sure it will make for that fuller undestanding which all the world so greatly needs now.'

The Edinburgh convention of the Rotarians will be the first ever held outside the United Sates and the British Rotarians have planned an exensive program for their guests' entertainment.

After the convention the officers of International Rotary will visit other Rotary clubs in the British Isles and will also go to the continent to organize clubs in Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Switzerland, Spain, Italy and France.

LANTZ BILL CAUSE OF DEMONSTRATION IN ILLINOIS HOUSE

President of Chicago Board of Trade Says Measure is an Appeal to Unfortunate Farmer—The Bill is Reported Out by the Committee Without any Recommendation

(By The Associated Press)

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., May 31.—Speaking before the house of representatives which sat as a committee of the whole to hear discussions of the Lantz Grain exchange bill today, Joseph P. Griffin, president of the Chicago Board of Trade declared that the measure is an appeal to the unfortunate farmer, discontented victim of a period of liquidation and discontent which forced farm prices down.

With crowded galleries cheering Mr. Griffin and house members who indicated their opposition to the bill, the committee reported the bill to the house without recommendation following the long hearing.

Leaders of the Illinois Agricultural Association, prime movers in the anti-pit movement, were severely reprimanded by Mr. Griffin for legislating for their own prosperity rather than for the prosperity of the farmers.

The Chicago board of trade president followed speakers for the I. A. A. The galleries were in an uproar when Representative McCabe of Joliet and former Speaker Shanahan took the lead in condemning the use of anonymous communications in arguments for the bill. During the discussion by R. N. Clark, chairman of the executive committee of the I. A. A., the committee took a stand refusing to listen to communications unless the name of the writers and recipients were given.

"Isn't it a fact that your lobby had their expenses paid by the farm bureaus when they were down here a few weeks ago?" asked Representative Devine, minority leader, when Clark charged that expenses of today's lobby, the largest in the history of the Illinois legislature, had been paid by the Chicago Board of Trade.

"Some of them did," Mr. Clark replied, and the galleries broke loose again. Crowds in the galleries took advantage of the situation when the question of a referendum was taken. The first demonstration was made when Representative McCaskrin of Rock Island, asked Howard Leonard, president of the I. A. A., if he was willing to let the question go to a referendum.

There was a breathless silence when Mr. Leonard did not reply and as he turned to D. O. Thompson, secretary of the organization, who stood a short distance behind him the crowd burst into cheers.

Not Afraid of Referendum

"I would not be afraid of a referendum," Mr. Leonard replied when Chairman Holaday, Republican leader had restored order.

Replying to the same question of a referendum Mr. Clark said:

"I would be willing to submit the question to a referendum of farmers." "How about submitting the prohibition question to the saloonkeepers?" Rep. Lyon of Chicago asked.

Representative Vice replied to Mr. Clark's charge that board of trade money brought today's delegation to Springfield with a counter-charge that some of the money appropriated for advisers was used in bringing the other lobby to the capital.

It was indicated tonight that the bill will be taken up by the house tomorrow.

AIRMAIL OFFICIALS SUSPENDED AFTER AN INVESTIGATION

Face Charge of Drunkenness, Negligence and Inefficiency

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 31.—E. W. Majors, head of the Chicago division of the airmail service, and three other officials at Checkerboard Field were suspended today following an investigation by postal inspectors. C. A. Parker, who recently arrived from the east was appointed temporary chief of the division in Majors' place.

The investigation into conditions at Checkerboard field followed the deaths of five pilots in the Chicago division in the last few months. Charges of inefficiency, negligence and drunkenness were made by witnesses during the inquiry which was in charge of Charles H. Clarahan, a postal inspector.

The pilots and mechanics at Checkerboard field tonight sent to Postmaster General Hays a protest against the suspension of the officials at the field. They also stated that their lives never had been imperilled by inefficiency on the part of the officials.

Gypsies visited Jacksonville yesterday and spent some time in the business district. They traveled in automobiles, reminding one that the gypsy of today is quite a modern sort of person compared with his ancestors, who traveled from city to city with ill-fed horses as the motive power.

The state senate has approved a distributive fund of $12,000,000. This is not so large a sum as certain educators have asked, but is twice as large as the fund provided by the state in comparatively recent years. Certainly in addition to increasing the distributive fund the legislature should find a way of correcting the various inequalities and extravagances that are a part of the law which makes the distributive fund possible. For one thing as a matter of justice a county should not receive from this fund more than it puts into it.

The consolidation of banks has been quite the rule in Illinois during the past two or three years. However, in recent weeks five new banks have been organized in the state. Evidently the increasing business and resources of Illinois create the demand for more banking institutions.

The decision of the railway wage board just announced gives an average reduction of 12 per cent to the railroad employes and will cut down the annual wage total of the railroads by about $400,000,000. There are indications that this reduction will not be accepted by the railroad workers without stubborn resistance. Now if the railroads can find a way to make reductions in transportation costs a great deal of progress will have been made in the big problem of putting business on a normal basis.

Mr. Chiperfield will be the choice of the voters of this district for membership in the supreme court unless apathy interferes. The judicial election is to be held next Monday and while this is a busy time of year in an agricultural county, men and women voters should not fail go go to the polls and voice their preferences. Mr. Chiperfield is fitted by training, experience and mental attitude for the high office he is seeking, and should be given a handsome majority in Morgan county.

The question of providing additional funds for the tuberculosis sanatorium and the proposal to levy a tax for a memorial to ex-service men will also be submitted. On both of these public questions there should be an expression of opinion by a majority of the people.

Attorney General Daugherty has filled three more places of responsibility in his department. The appointment of officials in this administration lacks the impetuosity that always characterizes the application of the spoils system. Each new official has been selected only after careful investigation of his special qualifications for the work in hand.

MR. LEWIS AND HIS GLOOMY VIEW.

Former Senator J. Hamilton Lewis continues his pessimism about the menace of Japan and in his Memorial day speech indicated his belief that some day the U. S. alone must face the Japanese in warfare. Perhaps that evil day will come, but certainly there is no justification for the opinion of Mr. Lewis that the U. S., has not a single sincere friend across the sea. The record of the years certainly does not indicate any unfriendliness on the part of England or France, to say nothing of some of the nations of lesser strength.

THE LANTZ BILLS AGAIN.

Charles G. Dawes is one of the numerous influential bankers who has taken an open stand in support of the Chicago board of trade and in his opposition to the Lantz bills now pending before the Illinois legislature. General Dawes always speaks with vigor and he characterizes the Lantz bills as demagoguery, giving promise of results that will not come.

In the view of Gen. Dawes farmers' organization should present some better marketing plan before they ask the Illinois legislature to place laws on the statute books which in the form of regulation will interfere with the normal operations of the board of trade. So much opposition to the bills from real "dirt" farmers developed in Springfield yesterday that the bills are not now in nearly as strong position as they were two or three weeks ago. They were reported out of the committee without recommendation.

SOME GENERALIZATIONS.

Broad generalizations concerning economic problems are dangerous and misleading. The bare statement that the industry which cannot pay a living wage ought not to exist is made for the purpose of supporting the implied assertion that every industry that does exist ought to pay what its employes consider a living wage. It would be just as sound, however, to take the other view, that when employes find that an industry does not pay them what they consider a living wage they should seek employment in some other industry that will. That is the course the stockholders of the railroads have pursued. When they found that railroad stocks would not pay a reasonable dividend on the investment, they sold the stocks and invested elsewhere. For that reason the market values of stocks have rapidly declined and investors have lost accordingly.

Statistics will show that a very large proportion of the farms of the country do not pay a living wage to the owners and their families, if the wage is to be computed according to the standard that would be demanded by city employes. Yet it would be hardly sound economics to assert that because agriculture in some years and some localities and in many individual cases in all years does not pay a living wage to those engaged therein, agriculture ought to be abandoned.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

A GREAT DOCTOR

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)
Member Illinois State Historical Society

Meredosia was fortunate, as were too few of our early settlements, in having a remarkable man, and an educated physician, among her citizens. This was

Dr. Wm. J. Wackerle

His home, however, was not always in our neighboring place. It took a good deal of the world, and an important part of it, to bear, develop and employ such a man as he was.

Wm. J. Wackerle was born in the Grand Duchy of Baden, Germany, February 23, 1819, and he came to America when a young man of twenty years.

Early Education

Dr. Wackerle was fortunate, and his patients more so, in his securing a good education in his native land. He first attended the University of Frieberg and then entered the medical department of the Heidelberg University, where he was graduated.

In 1839, the young man took passage on a sailing vessel from Havre and landed at New Orleans, Louisiana, after a voyage of sixty-three days.

In America

He spent one year at Jackson, Louisiana, practicing his profession, and then, coming north, settled at Ann Arbor, Michigan. This proved but a temporary stopping place, for, within a year, he went to St. Louis, Missouri, and to St. Charles county in Missouri, where he continued his practice until 1844, when he returned to St. Louis for a year of professional service. From there, in 1845, he which became his life time abode except for a few months stay in St. Louis, in 1852, during the cholera epidemic at that time. With the heroism of the true physician, and of his nature, he then volunteered his services for that period of time and stress, his wife accompanying him into the infected city. St. Louis used to be one of the hotbeds of cholera in those days of its frequent prevalence.

Marries.

The doctor had been wedded in 1843 to Miss Susan F. Anderson, born in Fauquer county, Virginia, June 30, 1825. She came west with her parents in 1835. They stopped first in Naples, this state, then removed to Troy, Missouri, in 1836, which was her girlhood home until her marriage.

Mrs. Wackerle early became a member of the Methodist church, and her whole after life attested the truthfulness of her profession.

Family

Doctor and Mrs. Wackerle were the parents of Wm. J. Wackerle of Hannibal, Mo.; Dr. C. J. Wackerle of Glasgow, Ill.; L. J. Wackerle of Ossawatomie, Kansas; Edward J. Wackerle of Jacksonville, and Mrs. J. R. Harker of this city. It need scarcely be said that the last named child has grown with the position of helpmeet to the indefatigable President of the Illinois Woman's college, where she has maintained a quiet and dignified relation.

The Physician's Work

It is difficult to describe and do justice to the quiet and laborious experiences of a physician in a small place. But his labors are not to be underrated beside those of fellow professionals in the large places.

Dr. Wackerle had a wide field of practice, extending not only about Meredosia, but into Scott county, and across the river into Pike and Brown counties.

Death of the Doctor

He died January 6, 1893, at his home in Meredosia, and a local correspondent said of the event: "Altho not unexpected, his death falls upon the people with a shock of pain and deep regret. For the past month the people of the town and country round have made daily calls of inquiry as to his condition, and with a common feeling of intense and heartfelt sympathy have awaited the result which came at last. x x In 1863, under the ministry of Rev. Wingate Newman, he made a profession of religion and united with the Methodist Episcopal church. In 1871, he was ordained a local minister of the Gospel by Bishop Simpson, at Shelbyville, Ill. He was never actively engaged in the ministry except on special occasions."

Dr. Wackerle was one of the oldest Masons in Meredosia, being a charter member of the lodge there.

The correspondent quoted above, also said in part:

"Dr. Wackerle was a great and good man, and by his departure from our midst heaven is enriched, earth left the poorer, and the poor lost an open-handed almoner. The true touchstone of his character was his belief in and his everyday living of these two foremost commands of his Master, 'Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy mind,' and, 'Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thy self.' When the news of his death spread over town and the country round there was dumb distress as if people should say, 'How can we do without Dr. Wackerle?'"

"He did noble deeds,
Nor dreamed them all day long
And so made life, death, and the vast forever
One grand, perfect song."

A Professional Tribute

At the fiftieth anniversary of the Morgan County Medical Society, Dr. P. C. Thompson said in part:

"In referring to the life and character of Dr. W. J Wackerle, I feel my inability to do him justice. No man ever lived who fought the scourges of disease with more devotion to his calling, with more earnest and selfsacrificing spirit in his efforts to allay the suffering and sorrows of his clients than did Dr. Wackerle."

Mrs. Wackerle

The good and faithful wife of Dr. Wackerle followed him to the world beyond, November 21, 1897, her last days being made more comfortable by the loving care of her daughter, Mrs. Harker, here, during an illness of long duration. Her son, Dr. C. J Wackerle had gone before his mother, and her eldest son, Wm. J., followed in 1906.

RAIN NEEDED ON MORGAN COUNTY FARMS

While rain is badly needed in Morgan county, especially for pastures, corn fields thus far have not greatly suffered. One advantage of the continued dry weather has been the unusual opportunity for the cutting and curing of alfalfa hay. Sometimes it is almost impossible to cure the first spring cutting of alfalfa and frequent rains make it very difficult. This year just the reverse has hapened and the Morgan county farmers who have alfalfa fields have had abundant opportunity for cutting and curing this crop.

While corn has not thus far been injured by the lack of rain, a number of fields are dry and hard and a few days more without rain would to some extent endanger the crop rospects.

The Personal Side

Impersonal Service

One of the distinct advantages of a trust company over an individual executor or trustee is the impersonality of its service. It is absolutely disinterested and impartial. No suspicion or jealousy can be aroused by its action. It will not favor one beneficiary over another. It cannot be influenced to depart from an exact execution of the testator's wishes. It never yields to a demand from the heirs for a higher rate of income than is consistent with safety of principal.

And still the service of this company has a personal side which is helpful to all beneficaries, and especially so to women and minor children. Its officers take a personal interest in them, and themselves handle all important matters which arise in connetion with an estate.

WHITE HALL OBSERVES DECORATION DAY

Splendid Program Given in Whiteside Park Monday Afternoon—Other White Hall News

White Hall, May 31.—Decoration Day services were held in Whiteside Park Monday afternoon, the address being delivered by Dr. J. M. Beadles and there was a large attendance, the exercises being very impressive. The arrangements were under the direction of the G. A. R. post, assisted by the American Legion post, and the exercises and decorations were all carried out in a most effective manner in accordance with the program already outlined in this correspondence. Dr. Beadles fully sustained his reputation as a great preacher and orator. In the evening he addressed the members of the graduating class of the White Hall high school in the Princess theatre.

The annual memorial sermon was delivered Sunday afternoon in the Princess theatre. Chaplain J. T. Green of the G. A. R. post, in the opening exercises stated that for a quarter of a century White Hall had observed Sunday previous to Decoration Day as Memorial Sabath and the attendance at this time was the smallest he had ever seen, there being less than a hundred people present. Rev. J. O. Kirkpatrick, the speaker, commenting along the same line in his opening remarks, noted that more attention was being given to base ball than to patriotic observance, a situation that if pursued to too great length must result in national decay. At the close of Rev. Kirkpatrick's address Dr. A. W. Foreman proposed a vote of thanks on behalf of the G. A. R. post and people for the best memorial sermon he had ever heard, and his motion prevailed unanimously.

PRICES OF FARM CROPS BELOW PREWAR AVERAGE

The prices of six of the important crops on May 1 of this year were below the prewar average prices for that date according to figures collected by the Bureau of Crop Estimates, United States Department of Agriculture. These crops are corn, oats, barley, flax, potatoes and cotton. The report showed that the prices of the three grains—wheat, rye, and buckwheat—were above the prewar average prices. During April the average price of wheat declined from $1.50 to $1.23 per bushel. The report shows that in general the industrial crops, such as flax, cotton and broom corn, are the most depressed in price, and that food crops, such as wheat, rye, potatoes and apples, show relatively less decline.

The prices in various parts of the country vary, with South Dakota being the center of the low-price district, the May 1 report shows. The average price of wheat in that State was 90 cents per bushel, and in some counties it was as low as 70 cents. Corn was selling at an average price of 32 cents per bushel in South Dakota, while the average price for the United States was nearly 60 cents. The price of oats was 23 cents per bushel in South Dakota, the average for the United States being 36.8 cents. The report showed a big decline in the price of old potatoes, especially in Michigan, where the average was 29 cents a bushel, which was 20 cents below the average for the United States.

The decision tomorrow will say that since the 1920 wage award "there has been a decrease in the cost of living" and "the scale of wages for similar kinds of work in other industries has in general been decreased."

Points of Contention.

These two points were the chief contention of the railroads before the board. Testimony was offered in the hearing which began April 13 and ended May 16, to show reductions of 20 to 50 per cent in the cost of food and clothing. Varying reductions in wages, mostly for common labor were also cited by the carriers.

"The board believes," the decision says, "that based on the elements shown the decreases fixed are justified and required."

The endless cycle which attended the increase in the cost of living and the increase in wages during the war has been reversed, the board says and first the business depression threw men out of work and then the loss of buying power of the idle workmen produced further depression.

"Whatever may be said as to the origin or contributing causes there has been and is a marked, and to some extent distressing and disastrous depression in business and industry affecting the entire country and some lines of production most seriously," the board says. "As a result heavy financial losses have been suffered, and many hundreds of thousands thrown out of employment and deprived of all wages, and this loss of purchasing power by them has accelerated the general depression by reducing the demand for the products they would otherwise have purchased.

"While it has been argued that the fall in prices has not reached to any large extent the consumer it has without question most disastrously reached and affected the produdcers, especially some lines of manufacture and agricultural classes.'

Reductions on Hour Basis.

TO MAKE WAR ON CANADIAN THISTLE

By Associated Press.

Springfield, Ill., May 28.—Immediate and relentless war on the Canada thistle is urged this week by farm bureaus over the state. Sentiment, several farm advisors say, is entirely too slack concerning this pestiferous plant. Attention is called to the fact that many townships in the state have specially appointed Canada thistle commissioners, who have the power to force any person, corporation or public utility to remove or pay for the removal of any Canada thistle on their property. Many other townships are said to be preparing to appoint such commissioners.

Destruction of the plant now, it is said, will save the farmers much disagreeable experience later on. There is no "best way" to eradicate a patch of this thistle. If the patch is small the most satisfactory plan it is said, is to smother them by covering with boards, tar paper, or some material which will entirely shout off the light and keep them under ground.

On a larger patch clean cultivation with surface cultivators beginning now in the spring and continuing till frost at intervals of every week has proven to be the sure way of killing them. Sowing the patch thick with corn or millet will help smother them. The whole secret of success, according to advice of several farm advisors, lies in not allowing any green growth of the thistle to get above the ground for as soon as it does, the roots begin to store up food and live over winter and other periods of non-growth.

AMERICAN LEGION NEWS NOTES

National Headquarters of the American Legion has received more than 1,100 signed resolutions calling upon Congress for immediate legislative aid to disabled veterans of the World War. Among the organizations which have shown the largest response to the appeal of F. W. Galbraith, Jr., National Commander, are Central Labor and Trade Unions, Chambers of Commerce, Rotary and Kiwanis clubs, Knights of Columbus, Associations of Public School Teachers and Principals, the American War Mothers, Service Star Legion and American Legion Posts.

—o—

Ethel Barrymore and a host of stage and screen celebrities contributed their talent to the American Legion at the annual show of S. Rankin Drew Post, composed of New York service men who are engaged in various branches of theatrical and motion picture enterprises.

—o—

Altho he found thousands of jobs for unemployed ex-service men, O. H. Krause, American Legion employment secretary at St. Paul, Minn., was almost stumped when two mothers asked that two veterans be sent to care for their babies while they went shopping. The warrior nursemaids who answered the appeal made good an the job.

—o—

Despite the fact that the American Legion Weekly is a men's publication, women readers won the first three prizes in a contest conduted by the advertising department of the ex-service men's organ for the best written advertisement of a well known dessert. There were 1,669 contestants for eight prizes, of which 1,075 were men; 812 unmarried women and 273 married women. From the total number of replies received 64.4 per cent originated from men and 35.6 per cent from women.

—o—

Formation of a permanent organization in Virginia for the Women's Auxiliary of the American Legion was perfected at a recent meeting, which was addressed by Russell G. Creviston, assistant national adjutant of the American Legion.

—o—

If the Detroit Tigers don't win the American League baseball pennant, it will not be the fault of the American Legion. Nine members of the team will join Charles A. Learned post. Ty Cobb, a captain in the chemical warfare service during the war, is one of the Michigan post's best boosters.

—o—

Prayers in almost every church in the state began the service and membership campaign of the American Legion in Idaho. Americanism meeting is every city will be a feature of the drive.

—o—

The General Electric Company in Erie, Pa., will present an American flag and post standard to the post of the American Legion formed among its employes. A memorial will be dedicated to empoyes of the company who died in action.

—o—

"As time passes, I have grown more and more proud of my part in the founding of the American Legion," said Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., in presenting two silk flags to the National Press Club Post of the Legion in Washington, D. C. The presentation ceremonies were attended by a large group of high government officials.

—o—

When the school board of Port Huron, Mich., became entangled in an educational and financial controversy which resulted in a deadlock, the American Legion post of the city took a hand. The ex-service men protested against a proposal to oust one teacher and to reduce the salary of another, both of them former soldiers. The deadlock was broken.

—o—

A home-coming welcome was accorded F. W. Galbraith, Jr., National Commander of the American Legion, when he returned to his home in Cincinnati to preside at an All-American meeting addressed by Assistant Secretary of the Navy Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., and Brigadier General Charles G. Dawes. Led by American Legion members 40,000 citizens of Cincinnati marched in a parade of honor for the Legion Commander.

—o—

Pulmans and tourists' sleepers will be "parked" in the principal downtown streets of Kansas City, Mo., to accommodate members of the American Legion attending the organization's national convention next fall. Tracks will be laid in the streets and cars connected with the city's electric lighting system so that men desiring to live in the railroad cars may do so.

Twenty posts of the American Legion and thirty-three units of its Women's Auxiliary were chartered during the week ended May 13.

HOT WEATHER LIVE STOCK SHIPPING INSTRUCTIONS

Champaign, Ill. — Due to the hot weather, the usual losses to live stock, especially hogs, are enormous, according to W. H. Smith, extension specialist in animal husbandry of the University of Illinois. "By following these suggestions as nearly as posible, all or at least a part of the damage can be eliminated," says Mr. Smith:

"1. Haul or drive your hogs to the shipping station in ample time to allow them to become rested and cool before loading.

"2. When ordering a car for loading hogs, insist upon a clean one bedded with sand, clay or earth.

"3. Wet thoroughly the bedding and interior of car before loading.

"4. Give only a small feed of grain before shipping. Heavy feed means more body heat generated.

"5. Load not more than one hour before train is to depart.

"6. Load slowly and carefully. Avoid excitement and do not beat or bruise the animals.

"7. Load not to exceed 14,000 pounds fat hogs and 16,000 pounds stock hogs in a standard 36-foot car during warm weather.

"8. Have water applied to the bedding in the car at available points immediately after the train stops.

"9. Use ice on floor of car whenever possible, three blocks to a car.

"10. Report inattention or neglect promptly to the superintendent of the division on which your shipment originates.

"11. Never throw water directly upon the hogs after they become heated. Instead, run it on the floor of car under the hogs."

WHITE HALL HAS GREAT BASEBALL INTEREST

Various Industries Join in Saturday Afternoon Baseball Game —Big Match Game Next Saturday.

White Hall, May 29.—Industrial base ball is locally crowding the "professionals" in public favor. The Saturday afternoon games between employes of the various industries is creating such interest that the Saturday afternoon game is being made increasingly a gala half holiday, where the men and the general public have heaps of fun. Saturday afternoon last the stoneware men and the employes of the industrial railway played the second game between those contending forces, and the result now stands a tie, the last game resulting in a score of 13 to 16 in favor of the railway men under Supt. George Staples, while a week previous Hal Galhuly's stoneware bunch defeated them on the same grounds.

Last Saturday's game was scheduled with the sewer pipe men and the stoneware men, but the sewer pipe fellows flunked early in the day when William Vermillion, their manager, and by the way an old star pitcher who pitched the first curve ball in the west, learned that organzied bands of rooters were to aid the stonware men to victory. The increasing interest in those industrial games is indicated by the match next Saturday between the employes of the White Hall Pottery Works and the railway men.

This will be the first game between rival concerns, as all previous Saturday games have been between teams representing subsidiaries of the White Hall Sewer Pipe & Stoneware Co. The Ruckel challenge was handled by T. M. English, and it is specified that Rev. Lee Hanchett is to be retained as umpire. The event will be more widely exploited, and it will be made a real Saturday afternoon holiday. The band has been engaged, Price Lindsey has promised a balloon ascension if the committee will furnish a safe balloon, as he will not undertake anything reckless, his days of extravagant recklessness being given over to the success of his business.

The stores would be willing to close were it not Saturday afternoon, but the factories will not operate, and it is this Saturday afternoon off that is giving the men the pep for these industrial games. Employes of the serum plant are getting their hearts set on copping off the championship when the clay fellows decide honors between themselves, and by this time will be lined up the annual clerks' half holiday and public benefit game, when the clerks will challenge the champions of the local industrial field.

JAMES M. GRAHAM ON IRISH REPUBLIC

Tells Audience Some Pertinent Facts Relative to Conditions in Ireland — Says it Has Been a Constant Struggle for 750 Years.

A fair sized audience gathered in the David Prince gymnasium last evening at a meeting called by the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic.

On the Platform were Edward Brennan, Dr. Edward Bowe, Dr. F. A. Norris, John M. Butler, John Clary, Mayor E. E. Crabtree, Hon. James M. Graham, James Harrigan, Mr. Travis of Springfield.

The platform was decorated with a large American flag at the rear and smaller flags of the Irish Republic at the sides. These flags are of three vertical stripes, green, white and yellow.

Mayor E. E. Crabtree called the meeting to order and introduced Mrs. A. R. Gregory, who sang "Kathleen Mavoreen," and 'Dear Little Shamrock." Miss Virginia Spink accompanied her on the piano.

John Butler then spoke briefly telling something of the history of the Irish question and explaining that it was hard for us of this generation in this country to understand that there was still a people fighting for independence. He said that the Irish people constituted a nation and that they were trying to obtain the right to rule themselves.

Century of Struggle

The past one hundred years, said Mr. Butler, have been a constant struggle on the part of the Irish to secure home rule, together with the right to make their own laws and spend their own revenue. At times home rule has been almost secured but has never materialized because its history is one of broken promises and unfilled pledges.

He quoted extracts from the Declaration of Independence and reminded the audience that their first allegiance was to the United States government, but that if we really believed that governments rested upon the consent of the governed, and that every man was born politically free then there is no reason why we should not recognize the Irish republic in its just cause of governing itself.

Albert Strausser sang, "Tumble Down Shack" and "Mother Macree." He was accompanied by Miss Sheehan.

Mayor Crabtree then introduced Hon. James M. Graham of Springfield as the speaker of the evening. Mr. Graham has been a member of the state legislature, city attorney for Springfield, a member of the Springfield school board, and member of congress.

Public is Misinformed

Mr. Graham began by saying that the public got its information on this question from scraps of information in the newspapers, and partisan articles in the magazines and were generally misinformed. However, he declared that there were a few udisputed facts that all should recognize. He quoted from the constitution, the Declaration of Independence and other of our papers of state and then took up the proposition that everybody is entitled to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. "Life is the fundamental right for without it the others do not exist. Liberty means free from illegal restraint.

"The fundamental law in accordance with which we seek happiness is divine and everything that we do is in virtue of this law, this desire to be happy. And we come nearer to the attainment of happiness when we obey the moral law.

"Now, the greatest agent for the spread and increasing of happiness is good government. And the men of all ages have striven for the end. The trend has been to democracy. President Wilson has stated the principles of democracy most accurately when he said that every nation has the right to govern itself. Lincoln also said, 'When men govern themselves, that is liberty; when men govern themselves and other men against their will, that is despotism.'

"For 750 years the people of Ireland have made their wants known but the peaple of England have refused to listen. The fundamental reason for the Irish question is one of character of the races. By character I mean the physical and mental makeup, the difference in the nervous system.

"The two races are diametrically opposite in nature and the English are absolutely incapable of comprehending the Irish. They have tried it for 750 years and it just can't be done. The Irishman is an individualist and his love of liberty cannot be beaten out of him by the English with a club."

Outlines History

The speaker then went into the history of England and Ireland from the time of the Norman conquest in 1066 and showed how the Anglo Saxons submitted to the Normans after one defeat and how 103 years later the descendents of the Normans under the Earl of Pembroke began the conquest of Ireland which is not yet finished.

"Has not 750 years of this frightful experiment been enough?" Or shall England go on governing the Irish with machine guns, armored cars, bombing aeroplanes, and gas, which according to the report recently returned by the investigating committee of the British workers, 'Stinks in the nostrils of the civilized world.'

"Why should we not do for Ireland what we did for Cuba, and for the Philippines, especially when we owe so much to her. Thirty-eight per cent of the army Washington commanded were Irish. Franklin went on a mission to the Irish parliament asking for Irish sympathy in our war for freedom, and we got it. The American flag has always been defended by a large proportion of Irish.

"Then in answer to those who say, we do not want to get into war with Great Britain we must remain neutral, we cannot become involved in the domestic quarrels of Great Britain, let me remind you of the conduct of Great Britain and France during the Civil war when they recognized the confederacy. And remember, too, that at that time England destroyed the American merchant marine as she has in one way or another destroyed every navy which has competed with her in the last 30 years.

"Some ask why do not the Irish submit; I say that the Irish are not made that way, they will either be exterminated or be free. There is no alternative.

Question of Industry

Aside from this there is the question of industry. England manufacturers have consistently forced parliament to enact laws which have killed the industries of Ireland, they have forced Ireland to become a land of consumers and refused to permit them to become a land of producers and competitors.

"The duties that a government owes its citizens are, the promotion of education, establishment of justice, encouragement of agriculture, commerce and industry, the promotion of the general welfare and the security of liberty. None of these has the English government given to Ireland.

"Ireland is the only country in the civilized world where the poulation has decreased in the last 75 years, it has gone down from 8 1-2 to 4 1-4 million. Why? Because of the land, or because the people do not work? No! it is the direct result of bad government, the result of a government which has as its professed object, to keep Ireland from becoming too great and two powerful."

The speaker laughed at the idea of a religious basis for the trouble in Ireland, declaring that it was British propaganda, a part of the old scheme of divide and rule.

Subsidize Text Book Writers

He declared that the British were subsidizing writers of text books in this country in order that there might be nothing included that would be unfavorable to England. He also said that the press news was largely propaganda and since the cables and wireless were under the control of the British government only their side of the question came thru.

The speaker, in concluding, said, "It has always been the policy of the United States to recognize a new government which has been set up and approved by the majority of a nation as was the case of each of the South and Central American countries, and the case with the French republic.

"This has always been recognition without intervention and has never been a cause for war. The purose that this recognition would serve would be to force England to recogniez a state of war with Ireland and then she would have to live up to the rules of war of The Hague conference.

"As far as war with England goes, that is almost beyond question. Where would England get the money to finance a war? She is now responsible for debts amounting to ten billion dollars which the United States had supplied to the allies and has never paid any principal or interest."

WILD WEST SHOW MAY BE STAGED HERE

Local Citizens Consider Proposal as Benefit for Mauvaisterre Lake Bridge Fund.

There is a possibility that a high class Wild West show may be staged in Jacksonville July 14, 15 and 16, to raise a fund for the building of a bridge at Mauvaisterre lake. "Little" Barbour, theatrical agent of St. Louis, was in Jacksonville yesterday in conference with members of the park board, Mayor Crabtree and a number of citizens who were actively interested in the circus program which was proposed last fall.

Mr. Barbour was here at that time and arranged for the coming of a group of attractions, the funds to be used in entertaining the state firemen's convention. The approach of bad weather made a change in plans necessary and it was decided not to hold the circus at that time. Subsequent events justified the good judgment shown, for a period of rainy weather ensued.

The Wild West aggregation that Mr. Barbour now proposes to bring to Jacksonville if there is satisfactory local interest is in no sense an amateur affair. It is a road show made up of A-1 attractions and has been presented in a number of Illinois cities with unvarying approval. The local committee has Mr. Barbour's proposal now under consideration and it will be decided in the course of the next few days as to whether or not the plan is feasible.

For this kind of a show no tent would be needed. Instead there would be a big arena or stadium surrounded by seats, and the whole fenced in with a canvas wall. If the arrangements under consideration are completed the idea would be to have a performance each evening of the three days, with matinees on at least one day and possibly all the three days. The attractions are of a class which should draw patronage from a large area and the people who were in conference yesterday with Mr. Barbour felt no doubt about the amount of public interest that would be shown.

To bring such an attraction to Jacksonville of course means a large expense but with the right kind of weather the patronage would be practically certain to mean a profit. The wish of the park board is to build a bridge across the spillway which will make it possible to reach the east side of Mauvaisterre lake grounds from the Superior avenue approach. The funds for a bridge of the kind needed are not readily available and so the suggestion was made that the necessary funds might be raised thru an attraction of the kind that Mr. Barbour proposed. However, the suggestion is far from settled and a great many details will have to be considered before the members of the park board and citizens who are discussing the matter with them enter into any contract.

Deaths

Simmons

Many persons in this vicinity were well acquainted with C. M. Simmons of Griggsville and will be pained to learn that he died a few days ago after an illness of some months. Mr. Simmons was a whole souled gentleman, square and upright and a fine companion. He was much interested in the fair at his lace as long as it continued and when we had a fair here he was a frequent and a welcome visitor.

MAY AN UNUSUAL WATHER MONTH

An Exxcessive Heat and Lack of Rainfall Record Was Unusual According to Observer George H. Hall.

George Hall of Alexander, volunteer weather observer, finds from his records that May has been an unusual month both as to temperature and rainfall with ten days when the temperature was 90 degrees or more. Back in May, 1896, there were five days in which the temperature was above 90. Then it was not until 1902 that another May day went above the 90 mark. Nine more years elapsed before there was a May day as warm as 90 degrees or more, that was in 1911, when there were four days with a temperature of 91 or 92 degrees.

Then in 1913 and 1914 there were three May days in the 90 class but seven more years elapsed before another May day with such warm temperature.

The rainfall for the past month has been unusually small, but .78 of an inch while for the same month in 1896 the rainfall was 4.27 inches. However, that was an excessively wet year and no especially serious condition has resulted from the May drouth.

Some detailed figures from Mr. Hall's records covering the years mentioned are as follows:

May days when temperature was above 90 degrees:

1896: May 6—91 degrees; May 7, 91 degrees; May 8, 91 degrees; May 9, 93 degrees; May 10, 92 degrees. Mean temperature 71.3 degrees; rainfall 4.27 inches.

1902: May 29, 91 degrees; rainfall 2.19 inches.

1911: May 25, 91 degrees; May 26, 92 degrees; May 27, 92 degrees; May 28, 91 degrees; mean temperature 68.2 degrees; rainfall, 2.25 inches.

1913: May 30, 92 degrees; May 31, 94 degrees; mean temperature 64.2 degrees, rainfall .66 inches.

1914: May 27, 91 degrees; mean temperature 65.4 degrees, rainfall 1.27 inches.

1921: May 23, 91 degrees; May 24, 94 degrees; May 25, 92 degrees, May 29, 95 degrees; May 30, 94 degrees; May 31, 96 degrees also four days with a temprature of 90 degrees;) mean temperature 65.7 degrees; total rainfall .78 inch.

BENEFIT CONCERT AT NEW HIGH SCHOOL

Illinois College Chorus and Conservatory Orchestra Apeared in Spring Festival Program.

The auditorium of the new high school building — the Newton Bateman Memorial Building—was used last evening for the second time, the occasion being a concert given by the Illinois College Chorus and the Conservatory Orchestra. It was the annual spring festival concert of the conservatory, and the proceeds are being used as a nucleus for the purchase of a new grand piano for the high school.

The weather was somewhat unfavorable, the heat being oppressive, and it is scarcely a matter for wonder that the audience was not a large one.

The program was divided almost equally between the chorus and the orchestra. The first half fell to the orchestra, which was, as usual, under the able direction of Mr. William E. Kritch. Seated on the commodious stage of the new hall, the members of the orchestra presented quite a "professional" apearance, and it was indeed astonishing to note the volume of tone that was brought forth by this comparatively small body of players.

Mr. Kritch has them well under control, using a decisive, clearly defined beat, and every member of the band followed his thought with remarkable precision. It would be difficult to choose the numbers best performed, or even those which made the strongest appeal, but the Valse Gracieuse and Gypsy Dance of German, the Village Dance of Burleigh and the Jasmine of Hadley each had a special charm. Mr. Kritch's musicianly ideas of interpretation were, as in previous years, always in evidence, the nuances and tempo rubatos being everywhere well considered.

The Illinois College Chorus brought forward Coreidge-Taylor's delightful cantata, "A Tale of Old Japan", words by Alfred Noyes, a work which met with great success when given here some years ago by the conservatory, and has been very popular among choral clubs all over the country. The music is of the romantic character always permeating Taylor's compositions, and it was rightfully performed with much flexibility of rhythm and shading. Mr. Quast, who wielded the baton for the Chorus, evidently sympathizes with the spirit of the cantata, for his directing was eminently varied and virile, and the singers responded well to his magnetic conductorship.

The soloists of the Tale of Old Japan were Miss Josephine Conboy, soprana; Miss Ruth Melba Armstrong, mezzo-contralto; Mr. C. E. Drummond, tenor and Mr. C. C. Quast, bass-baritone. The orchestral part was played on the piano by Mr. Edmund Munger. Miss Conboy and Mr. Drummond are students of the conservatory, while Mr. Quast and Miss Armstrong are members of the faculty. This quartet performed the task assigned them quite as well as might any important set of soloists.

Mr. Quast is, of course, an artist of whom we expect much, and who has never yet disappointed us. His lovely voice and finished manner of singing as well as his gratifyingly clear enunciation, were apparent in each of his short solos. Miss Armstrong delivered the grateful contralto part with much vigor and musical understanding, as well as pleasing tone. Miss Conboy was a surprise to many, even of her friends, revealing an ease of production, a power in the higher register, a sweetness of quality, which were delightful. Mr. Drummond is almost a stranger to Jacksonville audiences, but was welcomed on account of his sympathetic tenor voice as well as his pleasant personality. Mr. Munger's accompaniment were sure and sympathetic, as usual.

Mrs. Cecil Wegehoft and Mrs. Raymond Smith of Concord entertained Friday afternoon in honor of Miss Hester Deitrick, who is to be a June bride.

The affair was a miscellaneous rush.

The afternoon was spent playing various games and contests. The house was effectively decorated in pink and white. This color scheme was also used in the refreshments. Dainty little place cards attached to pink ribbons led to a large bride's cake in the center of the table. This was found to contain the gifts for the guest of honor.

Miss Edna Boeker to Wed Detroit Man.

At a tea given Monday afternoon at Illinois Woman's college by Misses Hazel Logan, Esther Harper and Betty Fraizer, the engagement of Miss Edna Boeker of Edwardsville, to Reverend Edwin T. B." and "E. T. B." announcing the engagement. During the afternoon ice cream and cake were served.

William C. Ledferd died at his residence, 402 North Fayette street at 6:15 Tuesday afternoon.

His illness dated back to April, 1919, when he was seized with pernicious anemia. He improved and was able to be about until some five weeks ago and since that time he had been confined to his bed.

Decedent was born in St. Louis county, Mo., June 23, 1851, and came to Illinois with his parents in 1865. He was the eldest son of William H. and Julia F. Ledferd, both of whom have preceded him in death.

He was united in marriage to Margaret Ann Baker, August 27, 1874, and who preceded him in death, July 24, 1898. To this union nine children were born.

January 2, 1913, Mr. Ledferd married Lilly Mae Berry of Springfield, Ill., who survives.

In addition to his wife he leaves the following children to mourn his loss: Harry E., of Springfield, Ill.; Hettie E. Barber of Woodson, Ill.; Lilly Ledferd, Clara Hodges, Sallie F. Hoagland and William Ledferd of this city.

He is also survived by a sister and two brothers, Elizabeth Ellen Graff of Orleans, Ill.; Charles H. Ledferd of Atlanta, Ga., and Frank L. Ledferd of East State street.

In 1913 he again made Jacksonville his residence and has lived here ever since.

Mr. Ledferd has been a life long member of the Methodist church and a generous and active member until death called him.

In his death Jacksonville loses one of its best citizens as he was public spirited, a man of high ideals, honorable in his business dealings, a successful business man, a kind and loving husband and father.

AUTOMOTIVE DEALERS IN REGULAR SSSION

Boosting for Hard Road Work Here—Get Gas Service Stations May Locate Branch in Jacksonville.

The regular monthly meeting of the Jacksonville Automobile Dealers association was held Tuesday evening at the Dunlap hotel. The meeting was preceded by a six o'clock baked chicken dinner served in the private dining room of the hotel, under the direction of Manager John Rule. The attendance was not quite as large as usual as several of the members were out of the city.

There were present as guests of the evening, R. R. Stafford, prsident; J. R. Curtis, V. P. and Treas, Leonard Meteer and Frank H. Montgomery, salesmen, of the Get-Gas Service Stations, Inc., of Springfield, Ill. This concern is a wholesaler of high test first run gasolene and oils, operating at present a large storage plant at Springfield and Taylorville and the representatives are in Jacksonville looking ovver the field with the idea of locating a branch here.

Two sites are available and it is understood that the president of the corporation will at once make arrangements to secure one of them and in the early summer proceed to erect a large storage plant. The gas handled by this company is the White Rock and it is understood to be sold only to filling stations.

Mr. Stafford, president of the corporation, states that the plant contemplated will give employment to about ten persons all of whom are employed locally; also, that all materials and all labor are obtained locally. In Springfield the Get-Gas corporation is supplying 31 out of 48 filling stations and in Taylorville nine out of ten and reported to be giving splendid satisfaction.

Hard Roads Again.

The association took up again the question of hard roads for Morgan county. It was reported that arrangements are being completed for a big booster meeting to be held in Jacksonville in about two weeks at which it is expected Governor Small and Coionel Miller, head of the department of public works, will be present. This matter is being arranged by W. E. Sullivan and others in Jacksonville and the county who are deeply interested in the movement. The orignial committee appointed by the Automotive dealers to assist in this work was Messrs, Withee, German and Babb, and to this committee were added Tuesday night Messrs. Strawn and O'Donnell.

It was stated at the meeting last night that work on good roads for Morgan couny could proceed as soon as contractors could be found to undertake it at the price allowed per mile by the state, and one member intimated he knew where the contractor could be found.

The committee on an aviation field for Jacksonville reported progress and it is expected that the necessary arrangements and contracts will be made in the near future.

DEATH OF MRS. MARK STAPLES IN WHITE HALL

Well Known Resident Dies After Brief Illness—Obediah Denham In Serious Condition—Other White Hall News.

White Hall, May 31—Mrs. Mark Staples, aged 49 years, one of the strongest and most vigorous women in the community, died at 4:45 p. m. Her maiden name was Martha J. Sheff daughter of the late Riley Sheff, and she has resided in this section practically all her life. She was ill two weeks with a complication of diseases that were too much for one of her vigorous constitution. She was a member of the Baptist church and the M. P. L. order. She and Mark Staples were married 26 years ago, and he survives. Funeral services were held at the house at two o'clock Monday, conducted by Rev. C. A. Carmeon, pastor of the First Baptist church, and the burial was in the White Hall cemetery. Mrs. Ollie Stanley of St. Louis, a sister, is the only surviving member of her father's family.

Mrs. Julia Wells Grace died at Cohagen, Montana, on the 27th, according to telegraphic advices received here. The remains are now in the care of an undertaker at Miles City, Montana, awaiting the arrival of her husband from Texas, when they will be forwarded to White Hall being expected here in about a week. The deceased is a daughter of David Wells, residing ten miles southwest of White Hall, and she will be remembered as attending White Hall high school. Her age was about 40 years.

Funeral services over the remains of the three children of Robert Howard, who were drowned at Godfrey last Friday evening, were held at the home at Godfrey at 2:30 p. m., Sunday, and the remains were buried at Godfrey instead of bringing them to White Hall, the former home of the family. Short services over the Hillman child were held at Godfrey Sunday morning, and the remains were then taken to Pleasant Hill for more extended funeral services and burial. The fifth child that was drowned was buried at Alton Sunday morning, services being held in St. Patrick's Catholic church.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sandidge were called to Higbee, Mo., Sunday night by advice that his little niece, daughter of Claude Sandidge, had drowned in a well Sunday evening about 9:30. The bereaved family visited here about three weks ago.

Aged Couple Married.

The marriage of an aged couple has just been solemnized that is especially interesting to both Roodhouse and White Hall. The contracting parties were James T. Anthony of Roodhouse, aged 75, brother of Rev. Elijah Anthony of White Hall, and Mrs. Larinda Harrison of White Hall, widow of the late Ambrose Harrison, whose age about equals that of her husband. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Anthony at the Harrison house on East Sherman street, where the couple will continue their dual life journey.

Obediah Denham has been in an unconcious condition for several days, and his demise can be a matter of only a few days at the most.

The interlocking tower at West Roodhouse, two miles north manned by White Hall men, has been given a thoro painting for putting in operation, and it will be opened Wednesday, June 1st, at 7 a. m. The White Hall tower was reopened ten days ago without a fresh painting, and it is not likely that any improvement will be made on this tower until the proposed change of the location of the crossing is settled, as the straightening of the Burlington track and reducing the grade will cause the crossing to be moved about 100 yards further up the C. and A., track.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Vermillion and two sons are here from Baker, Oregon, the former having ben attending the national convention of railroad telegraphers at Savannag, Ga., as a delegate. On their return they will be accompanied as far as Denver by Miss Mabel Campbell, who goes on a summer vacation tour.

HIS WIFE'S CASE SEEMED HOPELESS

Illinois Miner Spent Everything He Could Rake Up Trying to Find Relief for Her.

"I laid off today to come over here and get more Tanlac for my wife," said Paul Bailliez, coal miner for Clark & Co., Hanna City, while in Sutcliffe & Case's drug store in Peoria, Ill.

"Eight years ago last summer her health broke down, and from that time until she took Tanlac she never knew a well day. I never saw anybody suffer from indigestion as badly as she did. She didn't dare eat what other folks ate but lived on eggs and toast. Even then I've seen her have cramps so bad we gave up hope of her living through them.

"I believe she was the most nervous person in the world. Sometimes she would lose control of herself and just scream in agony. I spent every cent I could rake and scrape for medicines and treatments but she continued to get worse. When I saw a public statement from our State Inspector of Mines and Minerals, telling how Tanlac had helped his wife, I persuaded my wife to take a bottle and she began to eat and sleep better almost right away.

"Three bottles of Tanlac did her a thousand times more good than all the other medicines and treatments she has taken. She is now like a different woman, her nerves are much better and she is much stronger. We are both so happy over the way this Tanlac had brought her health back we don't know how to put it in words, but we tell our friends about it every chance we get. That's the best way we know to do good and also show our gratitude."

Tanlac is sold in Jacksonville by J. F. Shreve's Drug Store and leading druggists.—Adv.

RESPECT A MILITARY FUNERAL

As the funeral procession wended its way along the streets of the city Monday a few persons decorously lifted their hats as the caisson passed by and a gentleman who feels deeply on the subject remarked that it pained him to see several other men standing by or near the polite ones fail to remove their hats at all. We surely cannot be too deferential to the brave men who gave their lives for their native land.

The late Scott Russel said in Scotland, when he was a boy, persons meeting any kind of a funeral procession would stand with hats off until all vehicles had passed by.

A Few Facts
About Car Repairing By One Who Knows
It pays to rebuild an old car. It pays better than to trade it in for what you may be able to get towards a new one.
—Very few cars that are traded in really are worn out. The body may be dingy and may show a few dents. Paint and a little labor will remedy that. The engine may be draggy and other essential parts of the car's mechanism may be worn and not acting just right, but all this can be made right by the skilled mechanic, and when completed as it should be you positively have again a new car for little money.
—There are two ways to repair or rebuild a car so that when it leaves the shop either way seems all right to the owner. But how about it after the car has been run two or three hundred miles? Work done right means an enduring job and your car will go merrily on again for months. Just "tinkered" with it goes for a little while, then K'flooy, and more expense.
—Enduring repairs or rebuilding requires first quality material and experienced men with adequate machinery and tools. These things cost more, 'tis true, but isn't the final result worth more than the difference?
—We have special machinery for regrinding cylinders and straightening connecting rods. We have the experienced men and the necessary tools and material—and we know how.
If you are figuring on trading in a car, or having some work done on one, it will pay you first to confer with us. This conference and our advice will cost you nothing but your time.

MYSTERY IN CAVE IN PAPEETE TAHITI

Impossible to Throw Rock Across It—Reputed to Be Burial Place of Wizard of Old.

By Associated Press.

Papette, Tahiti, (Society Islands.) — About twenty-seven kilometers from Papette at the beginning of the District of Papara on Tahiti is a cave called the Cave of Maraa. It is a large opening in the side of the mountain; its floor a pool or clear icy cold water. There is nothing remarkable about its appearance.

Its interest lies in its being the reputed burial place of a powerful wizard of old the spell of whose enchantments still broods over the cavern. The particular manifestation which interests passers-by is the impossibility of striking the opposite wall of the cave with a stone altho to the eye the feat seems the easiest of undertakings. Most newcomers laught at the legand tand star out with an easy throw only to see the missle drop in the water apparently but a few feet away.

Then they warm to the work and exert all the force that is in them; and, at last making slings, strive with all their might to overcome the power of the old warlock; but to no avail. The warlock; but to no avail. The stones drop ignominiously in the water as if some unseen hand had caught them in mid-air and cast them down in the center of the cavern. The reason has never been explained satisfactorily.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

DEMPSEY ENJOYS DAY OF REST

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., May 31.—Jack Dempsey today is enjoying the first of a four day lay off prescribed for him by Jack Kearns, his manager. For the first time since he began training here two weeks ago, Dempsey dropped all training activities. He will loaf until next Saturday, when he will begin an intensive training campaign for three weeks to put himself on edge for his world's heavy weight championship contest with Georges Carpentier in Jersey City, on July 2.

For the next four days he will spend his time in rest. The champion intends to do a lot of reading, specializing on fiction, mostly stories of western life. At his training camp there is a large library from which Dempsey chooses his reading matter. He seldom reads the daily papers while in training.

Manager Kearns believes the four day lay off will enable Dempsey to build himself up to around the 200 pound mark. The champion at present weighs about 196 pounds, although his weight has not been publicly announced.

CARPENTIER IS NO SLACKER ON WORK

MANHASSET, N. Y., May 31—Refreshed by his two day lay off, Georges Carpentier sailed into work today with a speed and seriousness that surprised the easy-going manager, Descamps, and took the breath out of some of his sparring partners.

Soon after a hearty breakfast—Georges has acquired a huge appetite—the challenger took Italian Joe Gans and Paul oJurnee on for a gruelling test over the roads in the large estate across the camp. Half an hour's play with a soccor football, a bit of wrestling and shadow boxing, and a rough and tumble frolic with Journee and Gans, were a few other events on the morning program.

Georges notified the camp to prepare for a ring session in the afternoon as he was eager to do some real work. Willie Lewis, one time possessor of a walloping right, volunteered his services and was anxious to work with Carpentier immediately.

Georges is no slacker on work. On the days he is "not at home", he slips out the back door and has some lively sessions behind the barn.

Descamps aparently does not provide enough work but the challenger just kicks and pleads.

Descamps does not scoff at Dempsey's ability; he is cognizant of the fact that the champion's blows are dangerous as ten kegs of dynamite in a fire. He does believe however, that Carpentier will be clever enough to evade the Dempsey sledge hammer and will carry enough punch in his right to provide a robin chorus for the champion.

Carpentier is developing his footwork, already remarkable for a heavyweight and is working on the delivery of his hardest punches. In his workouts before newspaer men he has shown a tendency to lead with his right and leave his jaw uncovered, but in the private sessions behind the hay mow it is different. The challenger's shift at these times is so well executed that his protection is perfect.

Today the challenger weight 173 pounds, one-half pound more than when he started actual training ten days ago.

WHITE HALL CLUB CONCLUDES SEASON

Music Club Gave Lawn Supper as Finale of Season'c Activities—Other News Notes From White Hall.

White Hall, May 29.—The White Hall Music club concluded its season with a lawn supper on the Wihte Hall Chautauqua grounds Wednesday evening that was attended by thirty members and invited guests, and it was a highly enjoyable informal affair. The club had not followed a definite course of study during the past winter, its activities deviating from forimer seasons and made more variable. It has a membership of twenty-five, as follows: Miss Etta Gullett, president; Miss Laura Duncan, vice president; Miss Marion Winn, secretary; Miss Bird Duncan, chorus director; Mrs. J. F. Short, press reporter; Mrs. Ward Hull, accompanist; Miss Effie Nicholson, assistant accompanist; MissesEdith and Edna Baldwin, Mrs. C. C. Brown, Miss Edith Chapin, Miss Mary Ellis, Mrs. Adelaide Pearl, Mrs. E. C. Pearce, Mrs. C. E Potts, Mrs Danforth Potts, Mrs Peter Roodhouse, Mrs. Clifford Seely, Mrs. J. E. Silkwood, Mrs. C. E. Stetson, Mrs. H O Tunison, Miss Helen Worcester, Mrs. Paul Pratt, Mrs. Edward Roodhouse, Mrs. Russell Roodhouse, Mrs. W. W. Davis.

Notes.

The Ruckel pottery resumed operations in full this week, and this means the almost complete restoration of industrial activity at White Hall. This plant has been idle two months on account of a surplus accumulation of stoneware. The drain tile plant is still idle on account of necessary repairs growing out of a recent storm, and the repairs are being made more extensive for the reason that this plant has not been supended for repairs for two years. The Ruckel factory employs 35 men and the drain tile plant probably less.

Frank Villinger accompanied his mother, Mrs. J. R. Toneray, from Kansas City last week, and she is completing a visit here. Frank has been in Kansas City for several months on account of undergoing a spell of sickness.

C. E. Miller will on June 1st move his jewelry stock to the front of the Fox undertaking rooms, his present location having been purchased by James Program for a drug store. Program paid the Fischer heirs $6,000 for the building, and he and his son James will open what they will name the Program Pharmacy. Mr. Program has been located in Arkansas since leaving White Hall ten years ago, and his son James is now a young man who will make the father a fine partner in business. This will give White Hall only two drug stores.

Mrs. L. I. Smith, of Palmyra, is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan.

TEACHERS' SALARIES IN THIS STATE

Record of Illinois Better in This Particular Than In Some Other Educational Matters.

There has been a good deal of public talk about the poor rank that Illinois takes, educationally, that is the amount spent per capita for school purposes. This state does not spend as much on this basis as do some other states of far less wealth. However, in the matter of teacher' salaries the record is better and only eight states can make a better showing.

The average in Illinois for all classes of teachers from the high school to the smallest rural school, is $778. Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Nevada, New York and California pay a higher average, California being the highest with $976 or only $200 more than Illinois pays.

The average for the whole United States is $635.

In salaries paid to teachers in city schools, Illinois stands second with an average of $1,044. California with $1,063 exceeds Illinois by nineteen dollars. Five states exceed Illinois in the average salaries of high school teachers. Illinois' average is $1,262. Arizona is highest with $1,472; California next with $1,438 and then Nevada with $1,436.

Illinois makes a poor showing in her rural schools, the average salary being only $551. Only two states pay a thousand dollars or more to rural teachers, Massachusetts and New Jersey. Eighteen states do better than Illinois in this matter of rural teachers.

The fault lies, without a doubt, in the Illinois system of small school districts without responsibility to any one and without supervision or control that can compel reasonable standards.

To remove the anomalies in the state distributive school fund, Senator Hicks of Rockford has prepared a bill abolishing the school district and making the county the unit in the administration and supervision of the rural school. Such a change would work for simplicity, economy, efficiency and improvement in the standard of teaching.

Moon Modern Motor Cars

In appearance, the Moon meets the keen desire for outward distinction and beauty. The soundness of its mechanical design and its dependability in operation are best expressed by the satisfaction of thousands of owners in America. There are no hidden shortcomings, no one or two outstanding features dominating at the sacrifice of others, but a car that has won favor by being good through and through and "having a distinct reason for each decision;" the entire and immediate banishment of all make-shift and make-believe.

Fordson Tractor for Cutting Wheat

No doubt it will be hot when it's time to cut wheat, and there's no question about us all having a heart. Why plod away with the poor old horse when you can do it with a Fordson, do it better, do it in one half the time at about one half the cost.

Talk it over with us or call us for demonstration. We want to show you the drive where you can sit on the binder seat and drive the Fordson.

CASH GRAIN REPORT
By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, May 31.—Cash handlers expect cash wheat to start at about 25c to 30c over July price tomorrow. If this premium should be realized it will be about 26c off from today's close figuring on a theoretical close $1.85—that is 2c under May at which basis all cash wheat old today.

There were no export bids for corn here today altho the seaboard said 250,000 bushels had been booked there for export. The absence of export bids in Chicago was ascribed to unfavorable exchange rates.

Cash discounts on corn were unchanged to ½c lower and on oats ¼@½c lower. Car lot receipts were, wheat, 590 cars; corn, 2,168 cars; oats, 527 cars.

Daily Market Report

STOCK EXCHANGE BUSINESS DULL
By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, May 31.—Business on the stock exchange today was characterized by a continuance of last weeks dullness and reactionary trend. Pubic interest was neglible and traders evidently saw nothing in developments over the triple holiday to alter their attitude of pessimism. Additional announcement of suspended dividends were made domestic money rates remained firm and the foreign exchange market again denoted the confusion resulting in part from Germany's initial payment of reparations. Reports indicated increased depression in the steel and iron trade and advices dealing with the motor industry and windred lines of manufacture were of an equally unfavorable tenor.

Leaders of the motor, oil, steel, equipment, copper, sugar, rubber and chemical stocks registered gross reactions of 1 to nearly 4 points. Sales amounted to 450,000 shares.

With heavy June interest and dividend payments in prospect banks were less liberal with offerings of call money. Most loans of that nature were made at seven per cent but the rate again rose to 7½ per cent in the last few minutes of the session. The feature of the irregular to heavy bond market was another new low record for liberty 3½s at $87.44. The foreign bond list was a trifle steadier than domestic issues, Japanese and Mexicans making slight gains.

Total sales, par value, $11,375,000.

MAY WHEAT HITS HIGH WATER MARK
By Associated Press.
CHICAGO, May 31.—In the end-of-the month flurry prices flew skyward 17½c today for the May delivery of wheat. The top most figures which May wheat has reached this season $1.87 a bushel prevailed at the last minute when May contracts expired. Comparatively few traders, however, were affected because the sensational a dvance, most of them stuborn bear speculators who had persisted in a mistaken belief that they could accomplish final settlement at a decline. The market closed nervous and July in which most of the day's business was done, showed but ½s to ⅝c net gain, at $1.28½ to $1.28⅝. Corn closed ½s net lower to a like advance, oats unchanged to ⅛c higher and provisions at a setback of 15c to 95c.

Notwithstanding that 450 cars leads of wheat had arrived here since Saturday the fact speedily developed that very little of the supply was for sale and that bidders who wanted any in a hurry would have to pay dearly for the privilege. The scarcity of offerings was overcome for time being after the market had climbed 12½s. A reaction of 7c enaued, but strain was again apparent later and in the end the May demand altho confined to a few gave signs of being nearly fratic. It was estimated that total dealings in May during today's session totalled about 750,000 bushels. Firmness of the July delivery was ascribed to sympathy with May and to continuance of unfavorable crop reports despite news of rains, besides export call was brisk, Germany it was said taking 1,000,000 bushels.

Corn and oats were upheld by the readiness with which elevators and shippers absorbed the immense receipts of corn here 1,750 car loads.

Provisions were governed mainly by changes in the hog market.

SAYS TAXES HIGHER BUT PEOPLE RECEIVE MORE

University of Illinois Professor Comments of Conditions and Development Shown in Tax Figures.

Urbana, Ill., May 30.—"While taxes in Illinois have more than doubled between 1910 and 1920, federal expenditures have increased ninefold, or from $651,000,000 to $6,142,000,000," according to Prof. E. L. Bogart, head of the department of economics in the University of Illinois. He made the statement when shown statistics recently published in the Chicago Tribune relative to the considerable increase in general taxes thruout the state since 1910.

"There is no reason to doubt these figures," said Prof. Bogart. "On the other hand, this is a phenomenon common to the whole United States. While taxes in Illinois have more than doubled between 1910 and 1920, federal expenditures in the same interval increased from $651,000,000 to $6,142,000,000, or ninefold; general prices have risen over 100 per cent; the popuation of Illinois increased by almost 850,000 inhabitants; and the wealth of the state probably more than doubled.

"Such a statement may mislead, for in a developing state like Illinois the total sums raised by taxes must continually increase. The real question is whether the tax burden has grown more rapidly than the ability of our citizens to bear it. This may be doubted. Moreover, in return for the larger taxes the people of the state are receiving proportionately more than they were ten years ago.

"A very slight analysis shows that most of the increase in taxation has been for local purposes. Roads, schools, municipal improvements, and other county and local needs account for most of it. The state tax rate in 1920 was 40 cents; the remainder of the average rate of about $7, which prevailed thruout the state, was made up of various local taxes.

"And of each 40 cents collected by the state only 6 2-3 cents went in the university, which is a smaller proportion than the university received ten years ago. In other words, in so far as there has been an increase in taxation for state purposes, it has been due to expenditures for purposes other than the state university."

Misses Margaret Clampit, Bea Ellis and Louise Strandberg spent the week end with Mrs. Charles Wright in Murrayville. Mrs. Wrights' home is in Fayette, Mo., and she is visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Story of Murrayville.

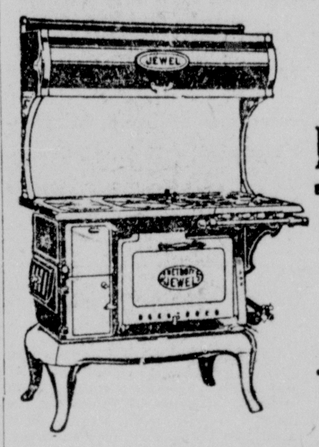

Miss Lula Bell Hildreth and Mrs. Shirley Strawn Frye are planning to leave this week for Sparta, Wis., where they will visit Mrs. Merritt Newton for several weeks.

Misses Margaret and Helen Strandberg spent Sunday in New Berlin at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Suter.

BEAUTY IS HARMONY

There can be no harmony, and therefore no beauty, in a home in which the wife and mother is cross and irritable and dull-spirited. Often as not, disease is at the bottom of such a condition.

Let the woman who is always tired and who suffers from low spirits and mysterious aches and pains, only try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She will then see that the beauty and harmony will be restored to her home with the return of her health and good spirits.—Adv.
